Discovery of a Valuable Deposit Not Many Miles From This City.

Gold, silver and copper are not the only valuable substances found in the hills of Washos county.

The gem, hyacinth, which adorns many a fair lady's finger, is to be found within fourteen miles of Reno. Late in October Willard Johnson, a prospector, stumbled on to a peculiar formation nearly a bundred feet in width and mere than a mile long. The substance is white and splintery, resembling hoar frost. It is silicious. Embedded in this formation are myriads of little transparent publiss.

John Wedekind and Mr. Johnson logated seven claims on the 18th of Nevember.

Specimens were sent to Prof. H. Simonds, principal of the San Franciaso school of assaying. He made a test positive and discovered the stones to be zireonium ellicate (ZrSiO4.)

It has a hardness of 7.5, character-February on sale at Mrs. F. C. Petrie's. istic crystallization, adamantine luster and high index of refraction.

Several of the hyacinthe have been out. They resemble off color diamonds. Zirconium has many values besides as a jewel. In the quantities that Mesers. Johnson and Wedekind will be able to supply the pebbles. There is no doubt but that they have made a very valuable flud.
